The ruling opens the door for US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) to collect duties on solar products which entered the US from Vietnam, Cambodia, Thailand and Malaysia under Biden's moratorium.

Can You ship lithium batteries in an ocean container?

If the vehicle can be handled in a non-upright position, it must be secured in strong, rigid outer packaging. For many carriers, certain lithium batteries are totally off limits. Container shipping giant MSC recently reminded its customers that it won't ship lithium batteries in an ocean container if they've been used or damaged.

Did the US import solar products from Vietnam and Thailand?

In August 2024, the American Alliance for Solar Manufacturing Trade Committee--a group formed to bring an AD/CVD case against solar cells from the four Southeast Asian nations--claimed that from April to June 2024, the US imported over 11GW of solar products from Vietnam and Thailand alone.

Are lithium ion batteries safe to ship?

They're commonly used in hearing aids, wristwatches, smoke detectors and key fobs. Both lithium-ion and lithium metal cells and batteries are hazardous to ship, and they're subjected to roughly the same regulatory requirements depending on mode of transport (i.e., ocean vs. air).

Why did the US pause on solar tariffs?

At the time, the White House said the pause on duties was a "bridge" to allow the domestic solar industry to develop and avoid choking US supply. However, Auxin claimed it facilitated a "lawless" marketplace and an influx of unsustainably cheap imports, which threatened US manufacturers.

Will feoc restrictions strengthen first solar's position in the US market?

Cadmium telluride (CdTe) thin-film manufacturer First Solar brought the case against Southeast Asian cell and module imports in April 2024 and has since said that the imposition of tariffs and Foreign Entity of Concern (FEOC) restrictions on imports would strengthen its position in the US market.
