LS Eco Energy Ltd, formerly LS Cable & System Asia Ltd, is a Korea-based company principally engaged in the manufacture and distribution of power cables and related materials. The Company operates its business through three segments.

LS Eco Advanced Materials was established in 2022 by splitting off the winding (copper wire) business division of LS Cable & System. It supplies drive motor windings for electric vehicles produced by Hyundai Motor Company and Kia Motors, and accounts for more than 70% of the Korean market.

LS Eco Energy's Vietnam and Myanmar subsidiaries produce various power cables spanning low-, medium- and extra-high voltage, based on world-class technology of the parent company. We also produce busducts, a next-generation indoor wiring system, and SCR, which are used as raw materials for manufacturing various wires.
