What is the Zambia Riverside solar power station?

The Zambia Riverside Solar Power Station is a 34 megawatts solar power plant in Zambia. The privately owned solar farm was originally commissioned in April 2018, as a 1 MW power station by Copperbelt Energy Corporation (CEC), who own the energy infrastructure.

Who is developing a solar power station in Zambia?

The Government of Zambia, through IDC Zambia, working with the World Bank Group, as part of the bank's program "Scaling Solar", awarded the tender to develop this power station to Neoen, a French independent power producer.

Who owns a solar farm in Zambia?

The solar farm that was commercially commissioned in March 2019, was developed and is owned by a consortium comprising Neoen, a French IPP, Industrial Development Corporation of Zambia (IDC Zambia), a government parastatal company and First Solar, a US-based solar panel manufacturer. The power station cost US$60 million to develop.

How does solar power work in Zambia?

Several communities, entrepreneurs, the government and NGOs work together to increase the share of solar power in the country. The Zambian solar sector consists of several segments. Most installations generate power with the use of solar photovoltaics (PV).

Which companies offer solar home systems in Zambia?

Besides this, they offer ready-made solar home kit. Vitalite offers pay-as-you-go home systems throughout Zambia. They do this with modern mobile technology and aim to help low-income households. Aurora Power Solutions operates across Sub Saharan Africa focusing on solar power.

Why is solar power a problem in Zambia?

Furthermore, there are inadequate standards for the off-grid sector, which can, among others, lead to the circulation of sub-standard products. Since many areas in Zambia are rural and the population densities are low, maintenance in these areas can also be a problem. Zambia has a high potential for solar power and the sector is growing.

Zambia's 25 MW Ilute solar project strengthens energy security by diversifying the nation's reliance on hydroelectric power. The $45 million project uses a unique financing model, attracting private investment without sovereign guarantees.
